OTTAWA, JULY 20, 1971.

*The Honourable J. J. Greene,
Minister of Energy, Mines and Resources,
Ottawa*

SIR:

I have the honour to submit a report on the administration of the Emergency Gold Mining Assistance Act for the fiscal year ended March 31, 1971.

Your obedient servant,

J. AUSTIN,
Deputy Minister

OTTAWA, JULY 20, 1971.

Summary of Operations for the Year 1970

Under the Emergency Gold Mining Assistance Act, which came into force in 1948, financial assistance is provided to marginal gold mines to counteract the effects of increasing costs of production and a fixed price for gold. By enabling gold mines to extend their productive life, the subventions help communities dependent on gold mining to adjust gradually to diminishing economic support.

The amount paid to gold mine operators to March 31, 1971 for the years 1948 to 1970 inclusive totalled $288,592,320.47 on a production of 60,240,260.105 fine ounces of gold produced and sold in accordance with the requirements of the Act.

The total assistance payable for gold produced and sold in the calendar year 1970 was estimated to be $13.8 million. For the year 1970 the total assistance paid to March 31, 1971 was $11,519,139.73. This sum is about 90 per cent of the assistance payable on applications received to that date. The remaining 10 per cent holdback is payable after an audit has been completed on the accounts of the applicants.

Payments amounting to $12,934,370.53 have been made to March 31, 1971 on gold produced in the calendar year 1969. The addition of holdback payments is expected to bring the total for the year to approximately $13.5 million.

Applications for assistance have been received from 29 lode gold mines for the calendar year 1970. In addition, applications are expected from operators of placer gold mines in British Columbia and the Yukon Territory. In 1969, ten operators of small placer gold mines applied for assistance.

The number of lode gold mines receiving assistance under the Act has declined from 87 in 1948 to 44 in 1960 and to 30 in 1970.

Three gold mines which had been in receipt of assistance ceased operations in 1970. The Barnat mine suspended production in Quebec and also the Lake Shore (MacLeod Mosher Division) and Renabie mines in Ontario. The closures were due to rising costs, a lower Mint price received for gold, and the depletion of ore reserves.

The only operating lode gold mine in Canada not eligible for assistance because of low production costs is the Campbell Red Lake mine in Ontario.

The price of gold in Canadian funds is governed by the fixed buying price of $35 per fine ounce in United States funds by the Royal Canadian Mint and the exchange rate between the Canadian and United States dollars. Due to pressure on the Canadian dollar in world money markets, the Government of Canada on May 31, 1970 allowed the Canadian dollar to float in international exchange markets. The Canadian dollar immediately increased in value in relation to the United States dollar with the Mint price for gold in Canadian funds dropping correspondingly. The Mint price for gold had a high value of $36.54 an ounce in June but was only $35.38 at the end of 1970 and reached a low of $35.14 during the week of March 8-12, 1971. The average Mint price for gold in Canadian funds was $37.69 an ounce during 1969 but was only $36.57 in 1970.

However, the value of gold in international markets during 1970 varied considerably from the Canadian Mint price. In the London Gold Market, a troy ounce of gold established a year low of $34.75 (U.S.) in January, had a low value of $35.12 in June but reached a high of $39.19 in October and was $37.37½ at the end of the year. In March, 1971 it reached a high of $39.07½ and exceeded $41.00 in May.

The drop in the buying price for gold by the Canadian Mint during 1970 seriously affected the gold mines receiving assistance under the terms of the Emergency Gold Mining Assistance Act. Because of increasing operating costs, most of the lode gold mines are now receiving the maximum allowable assistance of $10.27 an ounce of gold produced. This only applies when mines sell their gold to the Canadian Mint. Mines selling in the open gold market receive no cost assistance. In spite of higher gold values in international markets it is still more advantageous for high cost gold mines to sell gold to the Mint and accept cost assistance under the EGMA Act. However, the lower Mint price for gold and rising operating costs will cause a number of lode gold mines to cease operating during 1971.

Summary of Factors Affecting Canadian Gold Production

The Gold Export Act, passed in 1932, authorized the Governor in Council to make regulations governing the export of gold from Canada. The regulations which prohibited the export of gold in any form except under licence issued by the Minister of Finance were revoked in March, 1956. Since that time, gold-mine operators have been free to sell their gold without restriction. However, only gold sold to the Royal Canadian Mint is eligible for assistance under the provision of the Emergency Gold Mining Assistance Act.

Prior to the establishment by central bankers of an international two-price system for gold in March, 1968, the Mint buying price for gold in Canadian funds was governed by the fixed buying at $35 (U.S.) by the United States Treasury and the exchange rate between the Canadian and United States dollars.

On May 27, 1968 the price per fine ounce of gold paid by the Mint was set at $35 (U.S.) by the Gold Bullion Regulations (Order in Council, P.C. 1968-1017). The Mint buying price in Canadian funds since that time has been dependent upon the exchange rate between the Canadian and United States dollars.

From May, 1962 until May 31, 1970 the value of the Canadian dollar was set at $0.925 (U.S.). With a permissible fluctuation in the value of the Canadian dollar by one per cent above or below $0.925 (U.S.), the Mint buying price in Canadian funds could vary between $37.46 and $38.22 per ounce during this period.

In March, 1968, the governors of the central banks of seven nations decided to separate international transactions in gold among the central banks from open market transactions. The governors agreed that the existing official gold reserves would be used only in transfers among monetary authorities at the established price of $35 (U.S.) an ounce, and that the central banks would neither purchase nor sell gold in the open market.

The Minister of Finance stated that Canada would support fully the agreements reached by the central bankers. He also stated that there would be no change in the practices applicable to gold producers under the Emergency Gold Mining Assistance Act.

Operators of gold mines were thus offered the alternatives of selling their production to the Royal Canadian Mint at the fixed price of $35 (U.S.) an ounce, in order to qualify for assistance payments under the Emergency Gold Mining Assistance Act, or of selling on the open market at the price determined by supply and demand.

It may be noted that the amount of assistance payable is determined on the basis of the cost of production and is not related to the selling price of the gold.

In accordance with the agreement by the central bankers, gold purchased by the Mint is not added to Canada's official reserves, but is sold on the open market. The open market price exceeded $35 (U.S.) from April, 1968 to the end of 1969. Because only gold mine operators receiving assistance sold their gold to the Mint, the cost of assistance under the Act was effectively reduced by the difference in price at which the Mint bought newly mined gold and the price for which it was sold to open market bidders during this period.

An amendment to the Act in 1963 contained a restriction limiting eligibility for assistance in the case of lode gold mines commencing production after June 30, 1965 to those providing direct economic support to an existing mining community. A gold mine is deemed to provide such support if more than 50 per cent of the persons employed at the mine reside in the established mining communities listed in a schedule to the Act.

The application of the Act was extended for a period of three years to December 31, 1970 by an amendment passed on November 28, 1967.

The Honourable J. J. Greene, Minister of Energy, Mines and Resources, stated in the House of Commons on November 24, 1969, that an Interdepartmental study group was examining the implications of the termination of the Act, and that a decision concerning renewal of the Act would be made after the report of the study group was received in the early summer of 1970.

The findings of the gold mining study group resulted in the Minister introducing Bill C-4, to amend the Act, to the House of Commons on October 20, 1970. After debate and due consideration by the House, the Standing Committee on National Resources and Public Works, and the Senate, the Bill was passed and the revised Act received Royal Assent on February 11, 1971.

Amendments to the Act resulted in the following changes:

1. The application of the Act was extended to June 30, 1973.
2. A gold mine, other than a placer mine, had to be in reasonable commercial production in the month immediately proceeding August 7, 1970.
3. A gold mine, that was not a placer mine, was required to agree in writing to:
 - a) conduct all future hirings through Canada Manpower Centres,
 - b) give notice of a mine closure at least four months prior to cessation of operations,
 - c) retain, immediately following notice of closure, the Manpower Consultative Service of the Department of Manpower and Immigration to assist in the placement of employees as they are laid off.

Conditions Governing Eligibility for Assistance

A mine, to be classified as a gold mine for purposes of the Act and Regulations, must fulfil the following conditions:

1. The value of gold produced must be 70 per cent or more of the total value of the output of the mine.
2. The mine must produce at least 50 troy ounces of fine gold in a designated year.
3. Ore reserves of commercial significance must be developed and there must be a reasonable possibility of attaining production of gold on a commercial basis within a reasonable time.

The operator of a mine must also conform to the following requirements to be eligible for assistance payments:

1. Application in prescribed form for assistance payments for a designated quarter or year must be received by the Department of Energy, Mines and Resources within six months after the end of the designated period. Advance payments may be made for a calendar year or for quarterly periods beginning with the first day of the months of January, April, July or October. Schedules I to V are to be used in making application for assistance.
2. The average cost of production per ounce of gold, computed on all ounces of gold produced from the mine during the designated period, must exceed $26.50.
3. Assistance payments are made only for those ounces of gold produced from the mine during the designated period which are:
 - a) sold in the form of bullion to the Royal Canadian Mint by the operator; or
 - b) sold in the form of ore or concentrate to a domestic smelter, provided the smelter operator certifies that a number of ounces equivalent to those paid for by the smelter have been sold to the Royal Canadian Mint as soon as is practicable after the shipment of the ore or concentrate and the separation of the gold therefrom; or
 - c) exported and sold in the form of ore or concentrate to a foreign smelter.
4. The operator of a mine applying for assistance for the first time must submit a declaration of ownership of the mine on Schedule III.
5. A new gold mine, which is operated by an incorporated company, must be declared in production in accordance with Section 83(5) of the Income Tax Act. Status as a new mine may be obtained through application to the Taxation Division, Department of National Revenue, Ottawa.
6. After December 31, 1970, as a condition of receiving cost assistance, a person operating a gold mine that was not a placer mine, must agree in writing;
 - a) not to hire any persons to work at the mine unless they were referred to him by designated officers of the Department of Manpower and Immigration;

- b) to send a written notice of the closing of the mine to the Minister, Department of Energy, Mines and Resources, at least four months before the mine ceased to operate;
- c) to retain the services of the Department of Manpower and Immigration for purposes of finding new employment for persons displaced by the mine closure.

Paragraphs b) and c) above do not apply to a gold mine that ceased to produce gold, in reasonable commercial quantities, before July 1, 1971.

Method of Calculating Cost Assistance

The amount of assistance payable to an operator is determined by a formula based on the average cost of production per ounce of gold and the number of ounces produced. Under the current formula the assistance payable to the operator of a gold mine is computed by adding 25 per cent to the product of two factors, the "rate of assistance" and the number of "assistance ounces". The number of assistance ounces is two thirds of the total ounces produced and sold to the Royal Canadian Mint by a mine in a calendar year. The rate-of-assistance factor is two thirds of the amount by which the average cost of production exceeds $26.50. The rate-of-assistance factor is limited to a maximum of $12.33 which is reached when the average cost of production rises to $45 per ounce of gold produced.

When calculated on the basis of all eligible ounces produced, the maximum assistance payable amounts to $10.27 per ounce.

The average cost of production is determined by dividing the total allowable costs by the total number of ounces produced in the form of bullion from the mine in a calendar year. Only those ounces of gold which have been sold to the Royal Canadian Mint are eligible for inclusion in the assistance-ounces factor.

The cost of production of gold from a mine includes mining, milling, smelting, refining, transportation, and administration costs. Allowances are made for depreciation, preproduction costs and expenditures on exploration and development on the mine property in accordance with the Regulations.

Administration

The Act is administered by the Mineral Resources Branch under the direction of the Assistant Deputy Minister (Mineral Development), Department of Energy, Mines and Resources. Inspection engineers annually visit each mine receiving assistance for the purpose of determining the exploration and development expenditures which will be classified as capital expenditures for inclusion in allowable costs on a deferred basis, and for reporting upon the operations conducted at the mine insofar as they affect the payment of assistance.

Assistance applications are generally submitted at the end of each quarter. If found to be complete and in accordance with the Act and the Regulations, they are approved and an advance payment is forwarded to the operator. The Regulations provide that the advance payment shall not exceed 90 per cent of the assistance payable under the application. When the final audit of the accounts has been completed, the remaining holdback is approved for payment.

The Department has received the proficient assistance and co-operation of the Audit Services Bureau, Department of Supply and Services, in the examination of applications and in the verification of information received by an audit of the accounts of the operators.

*The Honourable D. S. Macdonald,
Minister of Energy, Mines and Resources,
Ottawa*

SIR:

I have the honour to submit a report on the administration of the Emergency Gold Mining Assistance Act for the fiscal year ended March 31, 1972.

Your obedient servant,

J. Austin,
Deputy Minister

Ottawa, July 20, 1972.

Summary of Operations for the Year 1971

Under the Emergency Gold Mining Assistance Act, which came into force in 1948, financial assistance was provided to marginal gold mines to counteract the effects of increasing costs of production and a fixed price for gold. By enabling gold mines to extend their productive life, the subventions help communities dependent on gold mining to adjust gradually to diminishing economic support.

The amount paid to gold mine operators to March 31, 1972 for the years 1948 to 1971 inclusive totalled $301,270,629.61 on a production of 61,738,600.619 fine ounces of gold produced and sold in accordance with the requirements of the Act.

The total assistance payable for gold produced and sold in the calendar year 1971 was estimated to be $11.8 million. For the year 1971 the total assistance paid to March 31, 1972 was $10,049,740.05. This sum is about 90 per cent of the assistance payable on applications received to that date. The remaining 10 per cent holdback is payable after an audit has been completed on the accounts of the applicants.

Payments amounting to $13,480,529.16 have been made to March 31, 1972 on gold produced in the calendar year 1970. The addition of holdback payments is expected to bring the total for the year to approximately $13.6 million.

Applications for assistance have been received from 28 lode gold mines for the calendar year 1971. In addition, applications are expected from operators of placer gold mines in British Columbia and the Yukon Territory. In 1970, fifteen operators of small placer gold mines applied for assistance.

The number of lode gold mines receiving assistance under the Act has declined from 87 in 1948 to 44 in 1960 and to 28 in 1971.

Nine lode gold mines receiving cost assistance ceased operating during 1971. These included: the Kerralda and Wright-Hargreaves (Wasamac #1 and #2 mines) in Quebec; the Annco, Cochenour, Hallnor, Upper Canada and Wilmar mines in Ontario; and the Bralorne mine in British Columbia. These closures were due to rising operating costs and the depletion of ore reserves. One new gold mine, the Robin Red Lake Mine, commenced operations in Ontario. The only operating lode gold mines not eligible for cost assistance because of low production costs, were the Campbell Red Lake and Robin Red Lake mines, both in Ontario.

The Government of Canada allowed the Canadian dollar to float freely in international exchange markets on May 31, 1970. The Canadian dollar immediately increased in value in relation to the U.S. dollar with the Canadian Mint price for gold dropping correspondingly. The average Mint price for gold was $37.69 in 1969, $36.56 in 1970 and only $35.34 in 1971. This worked a hardship on Canadian lode gold mines selling gold to the Mint and receiving cost assistance under the EGMA Act. In the face of rising production costs and dwindling ore reserves, many gold mines were forced to cease operations. Three mines closed in 1969, three more in 1970 and nine in 1971. Only 21 lode gold mines were still operating in 1972.

Other factors were at work, however, in 1972 that tended to help the gold mines. The United States Government announced in December 1971 that the U.S. gold price would be raised to $38 an ounce. The U.S. gold was officially raised to $38 an ounce on May 8, 1972 and the Canadian Mint also raised its buying price to $38 an ounce in U.S. funds. The Canadian dollar was selling at a premium in relation to the U.S. dollar and the actual Mint price in Canadian funds was $37.65 for the week of May 8-12, 1972.

Meanwhile during 1971 the gold price continued to rise in international open markets and was close to $44 (U.S.) by the end of the year. Several lode gold mines commenced selling their gold on the open market early in 1971 and most were doing so by December 1971.

After May 8, 1972, gold mines eligible for the maximum cost assistance under the EGMA Act of $10.27 an ounce could sell to the Canadian Mint and receive a total of approximately $48 an ounce for their gold. When the open market price exceeded this amount it was more advantageous to sell on the open market and forego cost assistance. The London Gold Market gold price continued its upward trend and had reached $66 (U.S.) an ounce by July 1972. No Canadian lode gold mines had received any cost assistance, up to the end of June 1972, applicable to the year 1972, because all their gold was being sold on the open market and not to the Mint.

In spite of rising gold prices in international open markets, the gold mining operators still wanted assurance of the continuation of the EGMA Act, which would guarantee a minimum gold price of about $48 an ounce in Canadian funds for the higher-cost mines receiving the maximum assistance. The Mining Association of Canada, on behalf of the gold mining operators, made representation to the Canadian Government to extend the Act to December 31, 1975.

An Interdepartmental Committee on Gold Mining, consisting of representatives from eleven government departments, in a Memorandum to Cabinet in April 1972 recommended that the EGMA Act be extended for a further three years from June 30, 1973, to June 30, 1976, without any change in the present method of computing the amount of assistance payable. This was confirmed by the Cabinet on May 23, 1972, and The Honourable D. S. Macdonald, the present Minister of Energy, Mines and Resources, has announced that a Bill will be introduced in Parliament to amend the EGMA Act accordingly.

The amended Act will give stability to the gold mining industry. If the high price for gold continues in international markets, the Canadian gold mines will continue to sell their gold on the open market and receive no cost assistance. If, however, the international gold price declines to below $48 an ounce, then the mines can apply for cost assistance under the EGMA Act.

Summary of Factors Affecting Canadian Gold Production

The Gold Export Act, passed in 1932, authorized the Governor in Council to make regulations governing the export of gold from Canada. The regulations which prohibited the export of gold in any form except under licence issued by the Minister of Finance were revoked in March 1956. Since that time, gold-mine operators have been free to sell their gold without restriction. However, only gold sold to the Royal Canadian Mint is eligible for assistance under the provision of the Emergency Gold Mining Assistance Act.

Prior to the establishment by central bankers of an international two-price system for gold in March, 1968, the Mint buying price for gold in Canadian funds (since January 30, 1934), was governed by the fixed buying at $35 (U.S.) by the United States Treasury and the exchange rate between the Canadian and United States dollars.

From May 1962 until May 31, 1970 the value of the Canadian dollar was set at $0.925 (U.S.). With a permissible fluctuation in the value of the Canadian dollar by one per cent above or below $0.925 (U.S.), the Mint buying price in Canadian funds could vary between $37.46 and $38.22 per ounce during this period.

In March, 1968, the governors of the central banks of seven nations decided to separate international transactions in gold among the central banks from open market transactions. The governors agreed that the existing official gold reserves would be used only in transfers among monetary authorities at the established price of $35 (U.S.) an ounce, and that the central banks would neither purchase nor sell gold in the open market.

The Minister of Finance stated that Canada would support fully the agreements reached by the central bankers. He also stated that there would be no change in the practices applicable to gold producers under the Emergency Gold Mining Assistance Act.

Operators of gold mines were thus offered the alternatives of selling their production to the Royal Canadian Mint at the fixed price of $35 (U.S.) an ounce, in order to qualify for assistance payments under the Emergency Gold Mining Assistance Act, or of selling on the open market at the price determined by supply and demand.

It may be noted that the amount of assistance payable is determined on the basis of the cost of production and is not related to the selling price of the gold.

In accordance with the agreement by the central bankers, gold purchased by the Mint is not added to Canada's official reserves, but is sold on the open market. Except for a short period early in 1970, the open market gold price has exceeded $35 (U.S.) from April, 1968 to the end of 1971. Since only gold mine operators receiving cost assistance sold their gold to the Mint, the cost of assistance under the Act was effectively reduced by the difference in price at which the Mint bought newly mined gold and the price for which it was sold to open market bidders during this period. The Department of Energy, Mines and Resources estimates that sales of EGMA gold by the Mint on the open market, through the facilities of the Bank of Canada, resulted in a profit of $7.8 million in 1968, $7.7 million in 1969, $1.6 million in 1970 and $8.6 million in 1971.

An amendment to the Act in 1963 contained a restriction limiting eligibility for assistance in the case of lode gold mines commencing production after June 30, 1965 to those providing direct economic support to an established mining community. A gold mine is deemed to provide such support if more than 50 per cent of the persons employed at the mine reside in the established mining communities listed in a schedule to the Act.

The application of the Act was extended for a period of three years to December 31, 1970 by an amendment passed on November 28, 1967. The Act was further amended by Bill C-4 passed by the House of Commons on December 18, 1970 and receiving Royal Assent on February 11, 1971. This Bill extended the Act to June 30, 1973 and introduced new requirements concerning the use of the facilities of the Department of Manpower and Immigration in the hiring of new employees and the procedures to be followed when a lode gold mine was ceasing operations.

On May 27, 1968, the price per fine troy ounce of gold paid by the Mint was set at $35 (U.S.) by the Gold Bullion Regulations (Order in Council P.C. 1968-1017). This price prevailed until Order in Council P.C. 1972-560, dated March 23, 1972, authorized the Royal Canadian Mint to raise the Mint price to $38 (U.S.) on such date as the Minister of Finance might specify. On May 8, 1972 the United States gold price was officially raised to $38 an ounce. Effective the same date, the Minister of Finance authorized the Royal Canadian Mint to raise the Mint buying price to $38 an ounce in U.S. funds.

Conditions Governing Eligibility for Assistance

A mine, to be classified as a gold mine for purposes of the Act and Regulations, must fulfill the following conditions:

1. The value of gold produced must be 70 per cent or more of the total value of the output of the mine.
2. The mine must produce at least 50 troy ounces of fine gold in a designated year.
3. Ore reserves of commercial significance must be developed and there must be a reasonable possibility of attaining production of gold on a commercial basis within a reasonable time.

The operator of a mine must also conform to the following requirements to be eligible for assistance payments:

1. Application in prescribed form for assistance payments for a designated quarter or year must be received by the Department of Energy, Mines and Resources within six months after the end of the designated period. Advance payments may be made for a calendar year or for quarterly periods beginning with the first day of the months of January, April, July or October. Schedules I to V are to be used in making application for assistance.
2. The average cost of production per ounce of gold, computed on all ounces of gold produced from the mine during the designated period, must exceed $26.50.
3. Assistance payments are made only for those ounces of gold produced from the mine during the designated period which are:
 - a) sold in the form of bullion to the Royal Canadian Mint by the operator; or

- b) sold in the form of ore or concentrate to a domestic smelter, provided the smelter operator certifies that a number of ounces equivalent to those paid for by the smelter have been sold to the Royal Canadian Mint as soon as is practicable after the shipment of the ore or concentrate and the separation of the gold therefrom; or
 - c) exported and sold in the form of ore or concentrate to a foreign smelter.
4. The operator of a mine applying for assistance for the first time must submit a declaration of ownership of the mine on Schedule III.

New Requirements Under Bill C-4

5. Mines Not Eligible for Cost Assistance

The Act does not apply in respect of gold produced from a mine that is not a placer mine and that, during the month immediately preceding the 7th day of August, 1970, did not produce, in reasonable commercial quantities, gold or ore containing gold.

6. Agreement Concerning Hiring Practices

(Schedule IV, Form MREA 4 (71), Sheet No. 1)

As a condition of receiving any payment under the Act after December 31, 1970, an operator of a gold mine that is not a placer mine, must agree:

- a) not to hire any persons to work at the mine unless they are referred to him by designated officers of the Department of Manpower and Immigration; and
- b) to submit with each application, on Sheet No. 2 of Form MREA 4 (71) a list of employees hired and separated during the period to which the application applies and stating the total number of employees at the mine at the beginning and end of that period.

7. Agreement Concerning Closure of a Gold Mine

(Schedule V, Form MREA 5 (71))

As a condition of receiving any payment of assistance under the Act after December 31, 1970, an operator of a gold mine must agree:

- a) to send written notice by registered mail to the Deputy Minister, Department of Energy, Mines and Resources, Ottawa, at least four months before the mine ceases to produce, in reasonable commercial quantities, gold or ore containing gold (in those cases where the cessation of operations occurs on or subsequent to July 1, 1971); and
- b) to retain, immediately after sending the notice referred to in paragraph a), such services of the Department of Manpower and Immigration as the Minister of Manpower and Immigration may require for the purpose of finding new employment for these persons who are employed at the mine when the notice is sent.

Method of Calculating Cost Assistance

The amount of assistance payable to an operator is determined by a formula based on the average cost of production per ounce of gold and the number of ounces produced. Under the current formula the assistance payable to the operator of a gold mine is computed by adding 25 per cent to the product of two factors, the "rate of assistance" and the number of "assistance ounces". The number of assistance ounces is two thirds of the total ounces produced and sold to the Royal Canadian Mint by a mine in a calendar year. The rate-of-assistance factor is two thirds of the amount by which the average cost of production exceeds $26.50. The rate-of-assistance factor is limited to a maximum of $12.33 which is reached when the average cost of production rises to $45 per ounce of gold produced.

When calculated on the basis of all eligible ounces produced, the maximum assistance payable amounts to $10.27 per ounce.

The average cost of production is determined by dividing the total allowable costs by the total number of ounces produced in the form of bullion from the mine in a calendar year. Only those ounces of gold which have been sold to the Royal Canadian Mint are eligible for inclusion, in the assistance-ounces factor.

The cost of production of gold from a mine includes mining, milling, smelting, refining, transportation and administration costs. Allowances are made for depreciation, preproduction costs and expenditures on exploration and development on the mine property in accordance with the Regulations.

Administration

The Act is administered by the Mineral Resources Branch under the direction of the Assistant Deputy Minister (Mineral Development), Department of Energy, Mines and Resources. Inspection engineers annually visit each mine receiving assistance for the purpose of determining the exploration and development expenditures which will be classified as capital expenditures for inclusion in allowable costs on a deferred basis, and for reporting upon the operations conducted at the mine insofar as they affect the payment of assistance.

Assistance applications are generally submitted at the end of each quarter. If found to be complete and in accordance with the Act and the Regulations, they are approved and an advance payment is forwarded to the operator. The Regulations provide that the advance payment shall not exceed 90 per cent of the assistance payable under the application. When the final audit of the accounts has been completed, the remaining holdback is approved for payment.

During 1971, the Department of Energy, Mines and Resources and the Department of Manpower and Immigration worked together in administering the new manpower requirements under the February 11, 1971 amendments to the EGMA Act.

The Mineral Resources Branch received agreements concerning mining practices and mine closures and lists of hirings and separations from the lode gold mines. These were processed and forwarded to the Assistant Deputy Minister (Manpower) for his necessary action.

The Department has received the proficient assistance and co-operation of the Audit Services Bureau, Department of Supply and Services, in the examination of applications and in the verification of information received by an audit of the accounts of the operators.

REPORT ON THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE EMERGENCY GOLD MINING ASSISTANCE ACT

FISCAL YEAR ENDED
MARCH 31, 1973

DEPARTMENT OF ENERGY, MINES AND RESOURCES
OTTAWA, CANADA

*The Honourable D. S. Macdonald,
Minister of Energy, Mines and Resources,
Ottawa*

SIR:

I have the honour to submit a report on the administration of the Emergency Gold Mining Assistance Act for the fiscal year ended March 31, 1973.

Your obedient servant,

J. Austin
Deputy Minister

Ottawa, 16 July 1973

Summary of Operations for the Year 1972

Under the Emergency Gold Mining Assistance Act, which came into force in 1948, financial assistance was provided to marginal gold mines to counteract the effects of increasing costs of production and a fixed price for gold. By enabling gold mines to extend their productive life, the subventions helped communities dependent on gold mining to adjust gradually to diminishing economic support.

The amount paid to gold mine operators to March 31, 1973 for the years 1948 to 1972 inclusive totalled $302,988,852.61 on a production of 61,814,293.417 fine ounces of gold produced and sold in accordance with the requirements of the Act.

All payments have now been completed for the calendar years 1948 to 1970. No payments were made applicable to the calendar year 1972 because no gold was sold to the Royal Canadian Mint during the year from Canadian gold mines under the EGMA Act and no applications for cost assistance were received applicable to that year.

The total assistance payable for gold produced and sold in the calendar year 1971 was estimated to be $11.67 million. For the year 1971 the total assistance paid to March 31, 1973 was $11,499,325.23. The only payments still outstanding under the Act applicable to the calendar year 1971 were approximately $170,000 of holdback payments due to five gold mines in the Northwest Territories.

Applications for assistance were received from 28 lode gold mines and nine placer gold operators applicable to the calendar year 1971. Only 21 lode gold mines were still operating at the end of 1972. Nine lode gold mines ceased operating during 1971 with one new mine, the Robin Red Lake Mine, commencing operations in Ontario. No lode gold mines closed or opened during 1972. On November 18, 1972, however, Aunor Gold Mines Limited, in the Timmins district of Ontario, was purchased by Pamour Porcupine Mines Limited.

A two-tier price system for gold was instituted in March 1968 and since that date there has been a considerable difference between the value of gold as used for monetary purposes and the price for gold on international gold markets. The average Canadian Mint price for gold was $37.69 in 1969, $36.56 in 1970, $35.34 in 1971 and $36.58 in 1972. This price was based on the United States value for monetary gold which was $35 an ounce from January 1934 to May 8, 1972 when it was raised to $38 an ounce. A further 10 per cent devaluation of the U.S. dollar was announced on February 13, 1973 which would raise the monetary gold price to $42.22 an ounce in U.S. funds. At time of writing, the new price has not yet been ratified by the U.S. Congress and the Canadian Mint price remains at $38 an ounce in U.S. funds.

During 1970 and the first half of 1971 there was a massive flow of short-term capital from the United States to Europe and Asia. This weakness in the U.S. balance of payments caused a crisis in the international monetary system. In August 1971 the U.S. administration announced that it was no longer prepared to convert officially held dollars into gold or other reserve assets. This weakened the U.S. dollar and was followed by depreciation of the dollar which raised the U.S. price for gold first to $38 an ounce and then to $42.22 an ounce.

Because of the monetary crisis, the value of gold in international open (free) gold markets began to rise in 1970 and this trend accelerated during 1971, 1972 and 1973. By June 1973 the international price was close to $120 an ounce.

Higher open market gold prices have had a considerable effect on Canadian gold mines. During 1972-73 these mines sold all their gold on the open gold market and received no cost assistance under the EGMA Act applicable to the calendar year 1972. The higher gold prices made it possible for some gold mines to process a lower-grade of ore and thus extend their operating life. Many mining companies were examining the properties of former producing gold mines with a view to re-opening them and one prospective new mine was being prepared for production.

In spite of rising gold prices in international gold markets, the gold mining operators still wanted assurance of the continuation of the EGMA Act, which would guarantee a minimum gold price of about $52.50 an ounce in Canadian funds (at a Mint price of $42.22 in U.S. funds) for the higher-cost gold mines selling their gold to the Royal Canadian Mint and receiving the maximum allowable assistance of $10.27 an ounce of gold produced.

An Interdepartmental Committee on Gold Mining, consisting of representatives from eleven government departments, recommended in April 1972 that the EGMA Act be extended from June 30, 1973 to June 30, 1976 without any change in the present method of computing the assistance payable. A Bill C-130, to extend the Act was introduced in Parliament on January 22, 1973, received second reading on March 29, 1973 and was sent to the House of Commons Standing Committee on National Resources and Public Works. This Committee recommended passage of the Bill on April 10, 1973. A third reading was made in the House of Commons on April 17 and Royal Assent was obtained on April 18, 1973.

The amended Act will give stability to the gold mining industry. If the high price for gold continues in international markets, the Canadian gold mines will continue to sell their gold on the open market and receive no cost assistance. If, however, the open market gold price declines to below $52.50 an ounce, then the higher-cost mines could sell their gold to the Canadian Mint and apply for cost assistance under the EGMA Act.

Summary of Factors Affecting Canadian Gold Production

The Gold Export Act, passed in 1932, authorized the Governor-in-Council to make regulations governing the export of gold from Canada. The regulations which prohibited the export of gold in any form except under licence issued by the Minister of Finance were revoked in March 1956. Since that time, gold mine operators have been free to sell their gold without restriction. However, only gold sold to the Royal Canadian Mint is eligible for assistance under the provision of the Emergency Gold Mining Assistance Act.

Prior to the establishment by central bankers of an international two-price system for gold in March 1968, the Mint buying price for gold in Canadian funds (since January 30, 1934), was governed by the fixed buying at $35 (U.S.) by the United States Treasury and the exchange rate between the Canadian and United States dollars.

From May 1962 until May 31, 1970 the value of the Canadian dollar was set at $0.925 (U.S.). With a permissible fluctuation in the value of the Canadian dollar by one per cent above or below $0.925 (U.S.), the Mint buying price in Canadian funds could vary between $37.46 and $38.22 per ounce during this period.

In March 1968, the governors of the central banks of seven nations decided to separate international transactions in gold among the central banks from open market transactions. The governors agreed that the existing official gold reserves would be used only in transfers among monetary authorities at the established price of $35 (U.S.) an ounce, and that the central banks would neither purchase nor sell gold in the open market.

The Minister of Finance stated that Canada would support fully the agreements reached by the central bankers. He also stated that there would be no change in the practices applicable to gold producers under the Emergency Gold Mining Assistance Act.

Operators of gold mines were thus offered the alternatives of selling their production to the Royal Canadian Mint at the fixed price of $35 (U.S.) an ounce, in order to qualify for assistance payments under the Emergency Gold Mining Assistance Act, or of selling on the open market at the price determined by supply and demand.

It may be noted that the amount of assistance payable is determined on the basis of the cost of production and is not related to the selling price of the gold.

In accordance with the agreement by the central bankers, gold purchased by the Mint is not added to Canada's official reserves, but is sold on the open market. Except for a short period early in 1970, the open market gold price has exceeded $35 (U.S.) from April 1968 to the end of 1972. Since only gold mine operators receiving cost assistance sold their gold to the Mint, the cost of assistance under the Act was effectively reduced by the difference in price at which the Mint bought newly mined gold and the price for which it was sold to open market bidders during this period. The Department of Energy, Mines and Resources estimates that sales of EGMA gold by the Mint on the open market, through the facilities of the Bank of Canada, resulted in a profit of $7.8 million in 1968, $7.7 million in 1969, $1.6 million in 1970 and $8.6 million in 1971.

The application of the Act was extended for a period of three years to December 31, 1970 by an amendment passed on November 28, 1967. The Act was further amended by Bill C-4 passed by the House of Commons on December 18, 1970 and receiving Royal Assent on February 11, 1971. This Bill extended the Act to June 30, 1973 and introduced new requirements concerning the use of the facilities of the Department of Manpower and Immigration in the hiring of new employees and the procedures to be followed when a lode gold mine was ceasing operations. Bill C-130 extended the Act to June 30, 1976 without any change in the present method of computing assistance payable and received Royal Assent on April 18, 1973.

Conditions Governing Eligibility for Assistance

A mine, to be classified as a gold mine for purposes of the Act and Regulations, must fulfill the following conditions:

1. The value of gold produced must be 70 per cent or more of the total value of the output of the mine.
2. The mine must produce at least 50 troy ounces of fine gold in a designated year.
3. Ore reserves of commercial significance must be developed and there must be a reasonable possibility of attaining production of gold on a commercial basis within a reasonable time.

The operator of a mine must also conform to the following requirements to be eligible for assistance payments:

1. Application in prescribed form for assistance payments for a designated quarter or year must be received by the Department of Energy, Mines and Resources within six months after the end of the designated period. Advance payments may be made for a calendar year or for quarterly periods beginning with the first day of the months of January, April, July or October, Schedules I to V are to be used in making application for assistance.
2. The average cost of production per ounce of gold, computed on all ounces of gold produced from the mine during the designated period, must exceed $26.50.
3. Assistance payments are made only for those ounces of gold produced from the mine during the designated period which are:
 - a) sold in the form of bullion to the Royal Canadian Mint by the operator; or
 - b) sold in the form of ore or concentrate to a domestic smelter, provided the smelter operator certifies that a number of ounces equivalent to those paid for by the smelter have been sold to the Royal Canadian Mint as soon as is practicable after the shipment of the ore or concentrate and the separation of the gold therefrom; or
 - c) exported and sold in the form of ore concentrate to a foreign smelter.
4. The operator of a mine applying for assistance for the first time must submit a declaration of ownership of the mine on Schedule III.
5. An amendment to the Act in 1963 contained a restriction limiting eligibility for assistance in the case of lode gold mines commencing production after June 30, 1965 to those providing direct economic support to an established mining community. A gold mine is deemed to provide such support if more than 50 per cent of the persons employed at the mine reside in the established mining communities listed in a schedule to the Act.

Requirements Under Bill C-4

6. Mines Not Eligible for Cost Assistance

The Act does not apply in respect of gold produced from a mine that is not a placer mine and that, during the month immediately preceding the 7th day of August, 1970, did not produce, in reasonable commercial quantities, gold or ore containing gold.

7. Agreement Concerning Hiring Practices (Schedule IV, Form MREA 4 (71), Sheet No. 1)

As a condition of receiving any payment under the Act after December 31, 1970, an operator of a gold mine that is not a placer mine, must agree:

- a) not to hire any persons to work at the mine unless they are referred to him by designated officers of the Department of Manpower and Immigration; and
- b) to submit with each application, on Sheet No. 2 of Form MREA 4 (71) a list of employees hired and separated during the period to which the application applies and stating the total number of employees at the mine at the beginning and end of that period.

8. Agreement Concerning Closure of a Gold Mine (Schedule V, Form MREA 5 (71))

As a condition of receiving any payment of assistance under the Act after December 31, 1970 an operator of a gold mine must agree:

- a) to send written notice by registered mail to the Deputy Minister, Department of Energy, Mines and Resources, Ottawa, at least four months before the mine ceases to produce, in reasonable commercial quantities, gold or ore containing gold (in those cases where the cessation of operations occurs on or subsequent to July 1, 1971); and
- b) to retain, immediately after sending the notice referred to in paragraph a), such services of the Department of Manpower and Immigration as the Minister of Manpower and Immigration may require for the purpose of finding new employment for these persons who are employed at the mine when the notice is sent.

Method of Calculating Cost Assistance

The amount of assistance payable to an operator is determined by a formula based on the average cost of production per ounce of gold and the number of ounces produced. Under the current formula the assistance payable to the operator of a gold mine is computed by adding 25 per cent to the product of two factors, the "rate of assistance" and the number of "assistance ounces". The number of assistance ounces is two thirds of the total ounces produced and sold to the Royal Canadian Mint by a mine in a calendar year. The rate-of-assistance factor is two thirds of the amount by which the average cost of production exceeds $26.50. The rate-of-assistance factor is limited to a maximum of $12.33 which is reached when the average cost of production rises to $45 per ounce of gold produced.

When calculated on the basis of all eligible ounces produced, the maximum assistance payable amounts to $10.27 per ounce.

The average cost of production is determined by dividing the total allowable costs by the total number of ounces produced in the form of bullion from the mine in a calendar year. Only those ounces of gold which have been sold to the Royal Canadian Mint are eligible for inclusion, in the assistance-ounces factor.

The cost of production of gold from a mine includes mining, milling, smelting, refining, transportation and administration costs. Allowances are made for depreciation, preproduction costs and expenditures on exploration and development on the mine property in accordance with the Regulations.

Administration

The Act is administered by the Mineral Resources Branch under the direction of the Assistant Deputy Minister (Mineral Development), Department of Energy, Mines and Resources. Inspection engineers annually visit each mine receiving assistance for the purpose of determining the exploration and development expenditures which will be classified as capital expenditures for inclusion in allowable costs on a deferred basis, and for reporting upon the operations conducted at the mine insofar as they affect the payment of assistance.

Assistance applications are generally submitted at the end of each quarter. If found to be complete and in accordance with the Act and the Regulations, they are approved and an advance payment is forwarded to the operator. The Regulations provide that the advance payment shall not exceed 90 per cent of the assistance payable under the application. When the final audit of the accounts has been completed, the remaining holdback is approved for payment.

During 1972, the Department of Energy, Mines and Resources and the Department of Manpower and Immigration worked together in administering the new manpower requirements under the February 11, 1971 amendments to the EGMA Act.

The Mineral Resources Branch received agreements concerning hiring practices and mine closures and lists of hirings and separations from the lode gold mines. These were processed and forwarded to the Assistant Deputy Minister (Manpower) for his necessary action.

The Department has received the proficient assistance and co-operation of the Audit Services Bureau, Department of Supply and Services, in the examination of applications and in the verification of information received by an audit of the accounts of the operators.

To His Excellency The Right Honourable Jules Léger, Governor General and Commander-in-Chief of Canada

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR EXCELLENCY:

In accordance with Section 10 of the Emergency Gold Mining Assistance Act, the undersigned has the honour to lay before Your Excellency a report on the administration of the Act for the fiscal year ended March 31, 1974.

Respectfully submitted,

D. S. Macdonald

Minister of Energy, Mines and Resources

Ottawa, April 1974

*The Honourable D. S. Macdonald,
Minister of Energy, Mines and Resources,
Ottawa*

SIR:

I have the honour to submit a report on the administration of the Emergency Gold Mining Assistance Act for the fiscal year ended March 31, 1974.

Your obedient servant,

J. Austin
Deputy Minister

Ottawa, April 1974

Summary of Operations for the Year 1973

Under the Emergency Gold Mining Assistance Act, which came into force in 1948, financial assistance was provided to marginal gold mines to counteract the effect of increasing costs of production and a fixed price for gold. By enabling gold mines to extend their productive life, the subventions helped communities dependent on gold mining to adjust gradually to diminishing economic support.

The amount paid to gold mine operators to March 31, 1974 for the years 1948 to 1973 inclusive totalled $303,101,402.06 on a production of 61,813,544.553 fine ounces of gold produced and sold in accordance with the requirements of the Act.

All payments have now been completed for the calendar years 1948 to 1971. No payments were made applicable to the calendar years 1972 or 1973 because no gold was sold to the Royal Canadian Mint during these years from Canadian gold mines under the EGMA Act and no applications for cost assistance were received applicable to those years.

The total assistance paid for gold produced and sold during the calendar year 1971 was $11,611,874.68. Payments made during the calendar year January 1, 1973 to December 31, 1973 that applied to the year 1971 were $290,538.72. Payments made during the fiscal year April 1, 1973 to March 31, 1974 that applied to the year 1971 were $112,549.45. The last holdback payments applying to the year 1971 were made on October 3, 1973.

A two-tier price system for gold was instituted in March 1968 and since that time there has been a considerable difference between the value of gold as used for monetary purposes and the price for gold on international gold markets. The average Royal Canadian Mint price for gold was $37.69 an ounce in 1969, $36.56 in 1970, $35.34 in 1971, $36.58 in 1972 and $38.86 in 1973. This price was based on the United States value for monetary gold, which was $35 from January 1934 to May 8, 1972 when it was raised to $38 an ounce. United States monetary officials announced a further 10 per cent devaluation of the U.S. dollar on February 12, 1973. The International Monetary Fund on October 18, 1973 announced that the U.S. dollar had been revalued at $42.2222 per troy ounce of gold in U.S. funds. The Royal Canadian Mint raised its buying price for gold to the Canadian equivalent of that figure effective the same date.

On November 2, 1973 Finance Minister John N. Turner announced that Canada's official international reserves had been increased in value to correspond with the October 18 change in the value of the U.S. dollar. Canada's 21.95 million ounces of gold reserves were revalued to $926.9 million U.S. dollars.

Twenty-two lode gold mines were operating in Canada in 1973. One new mine, the Agnico-Eagle Mines Ltd., commenced milling operation in December 1973 in Joutel Township, northwestern Quebec. Pamour Porcupine Mines, Ltd., in the Porcupine area of northeastern Ontario, purchased the Aunor Gold Mines Ltd., near Timmins, on November 18, 1972 and the Schumacher mine of McIntyre Porcupine Mines Ltd. on November 27, 1973. All three mines are now being operated under Pamour management. No Canadian gold mines applied for cost assistance under the terms of the EGMA Act during the calendar year 1973.

The EGMA Act was extended to June 30, 1976 by Bill C-130 that received Royal Assent on April 18, 1973. It provides a floor price guarantee of about $52.50 per ounce of gold to those mines eligible for maximum assistance payments should the free market price fall below that level.

Statistics Canada no longer uses the official Mint price in estimating the value of Canadian gold production. The gold price is now based on London Gold Market average p.m. daily fixings. The average yearly free market price for gold was estimated as $57.61 in 1972 and $96.40 in 1973, in Canadian funds.

Summary of Factors Affecting Canadian Gold Production

The Gold Export Act, passed in 1932, authorized the Governor-in-Council to make regulations governing the export of gold from Canada. The regulations which prohibited the export of gold in any form except under licence issued by the Minister of Finance were revoked in March 1956. Since that time, gold mine operators have been free to sell their gold without restriction. However, only gold sold to the Royal Canadian Mint is eligible for assistance under the provision of the Emergency Gold Mining Assistance Act.

Prior to the establishment by central bankers of an international two-price system for gold in March 1968, the Mint buying price for gold in Canadian funds (since January 30, 1934), was governed by the fixed buying at $35 (U.S.) by the United States Treasury and the exchange rate between the Canadian and United States dollars.

From May 1962 until May 31, 1970 the value of the Canadian dollar was set at $0.925 (U.S.). With a permissible fluctuation in the value of the Canadian dollar by one per cent above or below $0.925 (U.S.), the Mint buying price in Canadian funds could vary between $37.46 and $38.22 per ounce during this period.

In March 1968, the governors of the central banks of seven nations decided to separate international transactions in gold among the central banks from open market transactions. The governors agreed that the existing official gold reserves would be used only in transfers among monetary authorities at the established price of $35 (U.S.) an ounce, and that the central banks would neither purchase nor sell gold in the open market.

The Minister of Finance stated that Canada would support fully the agreements reached by the central bankers. He also stated that there would be no change in the practices applicable to gold producers under the Emergency Gold Mining Assistance Act.

Operators of gold mines were thus offered the alternatives of selling their production to the Royal Canadian Mint at the fixed price of $35 (U.S.) an ounce, in order to qualify for assistance payments under the Emergency Gold Mining Assistance Act, or of selling on the open market at the price determined by supply and demand.

It may be noted that the amount of assistance payable is determined on the basis of the cost of production and is not related to the selling price of the gold.

In accordance with the agreement by the central bankers, gold purchased by the Mint is not added to Canada's official reserves, but is sold on the open market. Except for a short period early in 1970, the open market gold price has exceeded $35 (U.S.) from April 1968 to the end of 1972. Since only gold mine operators receiving cost assistance sold their gold to the Mint, the cost of assistance under the Act was effectively reduced by the difference in price at which the Mint bought newly mined gold and the price for which it was sold to open market bidders during this period. The Department of Energy, Mines and Resources estimates that sales of EGMA gold by the Mint on the open market, through the facilities of the Bank of Canada, resulted in a profit of $7.8 million in 1968, $7.7 million in 1969, $1.6 million in 1970 and $8.6 million in 1971.

The application of the Act was extended for a period of three years to December 31, 1970 by an amendment passed on November 28, 1967. The Act was further amended by Bill C-4 passed by the House of Commons on December 18, 1970 and receiving Royal Assent on February 11, 1971. This Bill extended the Act to June 30, 1973 and introduced new requirements concerning the use of the facilities of the Department of Manpower and Immigration in the hiring of new employees and the procedures to be followed when a lode gold mine was ceasing operations. Bill C-130 extended the Act to June 30, 1976 without any change in the present method of computing assistance payable and received Royal Assent on April 18, 1973.

Conditions Governing Eligibility for Assistance

A mine, to be classified as a gold mine for purposes of the Act and Regulations, must fulfill the following conditions:

1. The value of gold produced must be 70 per cent or more of the total value of the output of the mine.
2. The mine must produce at least 50 troy ounces of fine gold in a designated year.
3. Ore reserves of commercial significance must be developed and there must be a reasonable possibility of attaining production of gold on a commercial basis within a reasonable time.

The operator of a mine must also conform to the following requirements to be eligible for assistance payments:

1. Application in prescribed form for assistance payments for a designated quarter or year must be received by the Department of Energy, Mines and Resources within six months after the end of the designated period. Advance payments may be made for a calendar year or for quarterly periods beginning with the first day of the months of January, April, July or October, Schedules I to V are to be used in making application for assistance.

2. The average cost of production per ounce of gold, computed on all ounces of gold produced from the mine during the designated period, must exceed $26.50.
3. Assistance payments are made only for those ounces of gold produced from the mine during the designated period which are:
 - a) sold in the form of bullion to the Royal Canadian Mint by the operator; or
 - b) sold in the form of ore or concentrate to a domestic smelter, provided the smelter operator certifies that a number of ounces equivalent to those paid for by the smelter have been sold to the Royal Canadian Mint as soon as is practicable after the shipment of the ore or concentrate and the separation of the gold therefrom; or
 - c) exported and sold in the form of ore concentrate to a foreign smelter.
4. The operator of a mine applying for assistance for the first time must submit a declaration of ownership of the mine on Schedule III.
5. An amendment to the Act in 1963 contained a restriction limiting eligibility for assistance in the case of lode gold mines commencing production after June 30, 1965 to those providing direct economic support to an established mining community. A gold mine is deemed to provide such support if more than 50 per cent of the persons employed at the mine reside in the established mining communities listed in a schedule to the Act.

Requirements Under Bill C-4

6. Mines Not Eligible for Cost Assistance

The Act does not apply in respect of gold produced from a mine that is not a placer mine and that, during the month immediately preceding the 7th day of August, 1970, did not produce, in reasonable commercial quantities, gold or ore containing gold.

7. Agreement Concerning Hiring Practices (Schedule IV, Form MREA 4 (71), Sheet No. 1)

As a condition of receiving any payment under the Act after December 31, 1970, an operator of a gold mine that is not a placer mine, must agree:

- a) not to hire any persons to work at the mine unless they are referred to him by designated officers of the Department of Manpower and Immigration; and

- b) to submit with each application, on Sheet No. 2 of Form MREA 4 (71) a list of employees hired and separated during the period to which the application applies and stating the total number of employees at the mine at the beginning and end of that period.

8. Agreement Concerning Closure of a Gold Mine
(Schedule V, Form MREA 5 (71))

As a condition of receiving any payment of assistance under the Act after December 31, 1970 an operator of a gold mine must agree:

- a) to send written notice by registered mail to the Deputy Minister, Department of Energy, Mines and Resources, Ottawa, at least four months before the mine ceases to produce, in reasonable commercial quantities, gold or ore containing gold (in those cases where the cessation of operations occurs on or subsequent to July 1, 1971); and
- b) to retain, immediately after sending the notice referred to in paragraph a), such services of the Department of Manpower and Immigration as the Minister of Manpower and Immigration may require for the purpose of finding new employment for these persons who are employed at the mine when the notice is sent.

Method of Calculating Cost Assistance

The amount of assistance payable to an operator is determined by a formula based on the average cost of production per ounce of gold and the number of ounces produced. Under the current formula the assistance payable to the operator of a gold mine is computed by adding 25 per cent to the product of two factors, the "rate of assistance" and the number of "assistance ounces". The number of assistance ounces is two thirds of the total ounces produced and sold to the Royal Canadian Mint by a mine in a calendar year. The rate-of-assistance factor is two thirds of the amount by which the average cost of production exceeds $26.50. The rate-of-assistance factor is limited to a maximum of $12.33 which is reached when the average cost of production rises to $45 per ounce of gold produced.

When calculated on the basis of all eligible ounces produced, the maximum assistance payable amounts to $10.27 per ounce.

The average cost of production is determined by dividing the total allowable costs by the total number of ounces produced in the form of bullion from the mine in a calendar year. Only those ounces of gold which have been sold to the Royal Canadian Mint are eligible for inclusion, in the assistance-ounces factor.

The cost of production of gold from a mine includes mining, milling, smelting, refining, transportation and administration costs. Allowances are made for depreciation, preproduction costs and expenditures on exploration and development on the mine property in accordance with the Regulations.

Administration

The Act is administered by the Mineral Resources Branch under the direction of the Assistant Deputy Minister (Mineral Development), Department of Energy, Mines and Resources. Inspection engineers annually visit each mine receiving assistance for the purpose of determining the exploration and development expenditures which will be classified as capital expenditures for inclusion in allowable costs on a deferred basis, and for reporting upon the operations conducted at the mine insofar as they affect the payment of assistance.

Assistance applications are generally submitted at the end of each quarter. If found to be complete and in accordance with the Act and the Regulations, they are approved and an advance payment is forwarded to the operator. The Regulations provide that the advance payment shall not exceed 90 per cent of the assistance payable under the application. When the final audit of the accounts has been completed, the remaining holdback is approved for payment.

During 1973, the Department of Energy, Mines and Resources and the Department of Manpower and Immigration worked together in administering the new manpower requirements under the February 11, 1971 amendments to the EGMA Act.

The Mineral Resources Branch received agreements concerning hiring practices and mine closures and lists of hirings and separations from the lode gold mines. These were processed and forwarded to the Assistant Deputy Minister (Manpower) for his necessary action.

The Department has received the proficient assistance and co-operation of the Audit Services Bureau, Department of Supply and Services, in the examination of applications and in the verification of information received by an audit of the accounts of the operators.

*The Honourable D. S. Macdonald,
Minister of Energy, Mines and Resources,
Ottawa*

SIR:

I have the honour to submit a report on the administration of the Emergency Gold Mining Assistance Act for the fiscal year ended
March 31, 1975.

Your obedient servant,

G. M. MacNabb

Deputy Minister

Ottawa, May 1975

Summary of Operations for the Year 1974

Under the Emergency Gold Mining Assistance Act (EGMA Act), which came into force in 1948, financial assistance was provided to marginal gold mines to counteract the effect of increasing costs of production and a fixed price for gold. By enabling gold mines to extend their productive life, the subventions helped communities dependent on gold mining to adjust gradually to diminishing economic support.

The EGMA Act was reviewed and amended many times since 1948 and was extended to June 30, 1976 by Bill C-130 that received Royal Assent on April 18, 1973. The present Act provides a floor price guarantee of about $52.50 per ounce of gold to those mines eligible for maximum assistance payments should the free market price fall below that level.

The amount paid to gold mine operators to March 31, 1975 totalled $303,101,402.06 on a production of 61,813,544.553 fine troy ounces of gold produced and sold in accordance with the requirements of the Act.

The last payments made to gold mine operators under the Act were made in October 1973 and these were holdback payments that applied to the calendar year 1971. No payments have been made that were applicable to the calendar years 1972, 1973 or 1974 because no gold was sold to the Royal Canadian Mint during these years from Canadian gold mines under the EGMA Act and no applications for cost assistance were received applicable to those years.

The price for gold had been set at $35 an ounce in United States funds by the U.S. Gold Reserve Act of January 30, 1934 and the Royal Canadian Mint price for gold, in Canadian funds, varied only due to fluctuations in the relative value of the United States and Canadian dollars. A two-tier price system for gold was instituted in March 1968 whereby international transactions in gold among the central banks of seven major nations were made at the established price of $35 (U.S.) an ounce and all central banks agree to neither purchase nor sell gold in the open market and used existing official gold reserves in gold transfers among monetary authorities. Gold transactions other than those used for monetary purposes were free to fluctuate in open international markets in accordance with supply and demand requirements.

Operators of gold mines were offered the alternatives of selling their production to the Royal Canadian Mint at the fixed price of $35 (U.S. an ounce, in order to qualify for assistance payments under the EGMA Act, or of selling on the open gold market at a price determined by supply and demand and forego any cost assistance. It may be noted that the maximum amount of assistance payable under the Act is $10.27 an ounce of gold based on total gold production and that assistance payments are determined on the basis of cost of production and are not related to the selling price of gold.

The price of gold in open gold markets commenced to rise in 1971 (see below) and it became more advantageous for gold mine operators to sell on the open market and forego EGMA cost assistance. The International Monetary Fund (IMF) price for gold, used for monetary purposes only, was raised from $35 to $38 (U.S.) on May 8, 1972 and to $42.2222 (U.S.) an ounce on October 18, 1973. The Royal Canadian Mint offered to purchase gold at the new monetary gold prices in Canadian funds but these were still well below international open market prices and no gold was sold to the Mint by Canadian gold producers during 1972-74, or to date in 1975.

Twenty-two lode gold mines were in operation in Canada at the end of 1974. Marban Gold Mines Limited, in the Malartic area of Quebec, ceased operating in September, 1974. Agnico-Eagle Mines Limited, in Joutel Township, northwestern Quebec, commenced milling operations in December, 1973. Chibex Limited reopened the former Key Anacon Mines Limited gold mine in the Chibougamau area of Quebec and a new mill and plant buildings were constructed with tune-up operations being underway in November 1974. The Mining Corporation of Canada Limited developed the property of New Joburke Explorations Limited, in Keith Township some 50 miles southwest of Timmins, Ontario, during 1974 and gold ore obtained from underground development and open-pit surface mining was trucked to the mill of Pamour Porcupine Mines, Limited for custom treatment.

Administration of the EGMA Act

The Act is administered by the Mineral Development Sector under the direction of the Assistant Deputy Minister (Mineral Development), Department of Energy, Mines and Resources. No applications for cost assistance were received from any gold mining operators during the fiscal year ended March 31, 1975. Several gold mine operators did, however, continue to forward to the Deputy Minister, Department of Energy, Mines and Resources lists of employees hired through Canada Manpower Centres and employees released during the calendar year 1974. This was a requirement under the EGMA Act for lode gold mines to remain eligible for cost assistance payments. The lists of hirings and separations were forwarded to the Department of Manpower and Immigration (M&I) for its necessary action. Letters were received back from the Assistant Deputy Minister (Manpower) certifying that these mining companies had used the facilities of M&I in their employment activities.

An EGMA Circular Letter was sent to all lode gold mine operators in September, 1974. This letter was prepared to inform operators that:

- a) The EGMA Act had been extended, with no change in the method of calculating assistance payments, to June 30, 1976,
- b) Under present conditions (with gold mine operators selling all their gold on the open market and not applying for cost assistance), there was no obligation for operating lode gold mines to send a formal Notice of Closure to the Minister of EMR at least four months in advance of ceasing mining operations (This was a requirement under the EGMA Act). Operators were, however, requested to inform the Department of their closing-down plans at the time that they were required to inform provincial authorities that operations were ceasing, and
- c) EGMA inspection engineers would visit operating gold mines only on an irregular basis. Information sheets, concerning mine production and underground development normally obtained by an inspection engineer during his annual visit were, however, forwarded with the Circular Letter with a request that they be completed for the calendar year 1973 and returned to the Deputy Minister of EMR. Subsequently, information was received by the Department from many of the operating lode gold mines.

Conditions Governing Eligibility for Assistance Under the EGMA Act

A mine, to be classified as a gold mine for purposes of the Act and Regulations, must fulfill the following conditions:

1. The value of gold produced must be 70 per cent or more of the total value of the output of the mine.
2. The mine must produce at least 50 troy ounces of fine gold in a designated year.
3. Ore reserves of commercial significance must be developed and there must be a reasonable possibility of attaining production of gold on a commercial basis within a reasonable time.

The operator of a mine must also conform to the following requirements to be eligible for assistance payments:

1. Application in prescribed form for assistance payments for a designated quarter or year must be received by the Department of Energy, Mines and Resources within six months after the end of the designated period. Advance payments may be made for a calendar year or for quarterly periods beginning with the first day of the months of January, April, July or October. Schedules I to V are to be used in making application for assistance.
2. The average cost of production per ounce of gold, computed on all ounces of gold produced from the mine during the designated period, must exceed $26.50.
3. Assistance payments are made only for those ounces of gold produced from the mine during the designated period which are:
 - a) sold in the form of bullion to the Royal Canadian Mint by the operator; or
 - b) sold in the form of ore or concentrate to a domestic smelter, provided the smelter operator certifies that a number of ounces equivalent to those paid for by the smelter have been sold to the Royal Canadian Mint as soon as is practicable after the shipment of the ore or concentrate and the separation of the gold therefrom; or
 - c) exported and sold in the form of ore concentrate to a foreign smelter.

4. The operator of a mine applying for assistance for the first time must submit a declaration of ownership of the mine on Schedule III.
5. An amendment to the Act in 1963 contained a restriction limiting eligibility for assistance in the case of lode gold mines commencing production after June 30, 1965 to those providing direct economic support to an established mining community. A gold mine is deemed to provide such support if more than 50 per cent of the persons employed at the mine reside in the established mining communities listed in a schedule to the Act.

Requirements Under Bill C-4

6. Mines Not Eligible for Cost Assistance

The Act does not apply in respect of gold produced from a mine that is not a placer mine and that, during the month immediately preceding the 7th day of August, 1970, did not produce, in reasonable commercial quantities, gold or ore containing gold.

7. Agreement Concerning Hiring Practices (Schedule IV, Form MREA 4 (71), Sheet No. 1)

As a condition of receiving any payment under the Act after December 31, 1970, an operator of a gold mine that is not a placer mine, must agree:

- a) not to hire any persons to work at the mine unless they are referred to him by designated officers of the Department of Manpower and Immigration; and
- b) to submit with each application, on Sheet No. 2 of Form MREA 4 (71) a list of employees hired and separated during the period to which the application applies and stating the total number of employees at the mine at the beginning and end of that period.

8. Agreement Concerning Closure of a Gold Mine (Schedule V, Form MREA 5 (71))

As a condition of receiving any payment of assistance under the Act after December 31, 1970 an operator of a gold mine must agree:

- a) to send written notice by registered mail to the Deputy Minister, Department of Energy, Mines and Resources, Ottawa, at least four months before the mine ceases to produce, in reasonable commercial quantities, gold or ore containing gold (in those cases where the cessation of operations occurs on or subsequent to July 1, 1971); and
- b) to retain, immediately after sending the notice referred to in paragraph a), such services of the Department of Manpower and Immigration as the Minister of Manpower and Immigration may require for the purpose of finding new employment for these persons who are employed at the mine when the notice is sent.

Method of Calculating Cost Assistance

The amount of assistance payable to an operator is determined by a formula based on the average cost of production per ounce of gold and the number of ounces produced. Under the current formula the assistance payable to the operator of a gold mine is computed by adding 25 per cent to the product of two factors, the "rate of assistance" and the number of "assistance ounces". The number of assistance ounces is two thirds of the total ounces produced and sold to the Royal Canadian Mint by a mine in a calendar year. The rate-of-assistance factor is two thirds of the amount by which the average cost of production exceeds $26.50. The rate-of-assistance factor is limited to a maximum of $12.33 which is reached when the average cost of production rises to $45 per ounce of gold produced.

When calculated on the basis of all eligible ounces produced, the maximum assistance payable amounts to $10.27 per ounce.

The average cost of production is determined by dividing the total allowable costs by the total number of ounces produced in the form of bullion from the mine in a calendar year. Only those ounces of gold which have been sold to the Royal Canadian Mint are eligible for inclusion, in the assistance-ounces factor.

The cost of production of gold from a mine includes mining, milling, smelting, refining, transportation and administration costs. Allowances are made for depreciation, preproduction costs and expenditures on exploration and development on the mine property in accordance with the Regulations.

Canadian Gold Production and Assistance Payments Made Under the Terms of the Emergency Gold Mining Assistance Act

The distribution of assistance payments as related to the average costs of production for lode gold and placer mines, between the calendar years 1948-71, is shown in Table 3.

Payments made to individual gold mining operators, both lode gold and placer, under the terms of the EGMA Act between 1948-71 are detailed in pages 26 to 101.

It should be noted that the values shown in Table 3 and payments made to individual operators are identical to those shown in the EGMA annual report for the fiscal year ended March 31, 1974. The gold mining operators received no further payments under the EGMA Act following the final holdback payments that pertained to the calendar year 1971 that were made in October 1973.

Figure 1 gives a comparison of the yearly average buying price for gold at the Royal Canadian Mint in Ottawa and the London Gold Market in Canadian funds, between 1948-74. The London Gold Market closed on September 3, 1939, at the outbreak of the Second World War and did not reopen until March 22, 1954. It soon regained its former position as the leading world centre for gold transactions.

Although the EGMA Act is not due to expire until June 30, 1976 it is considered unlikely that any further payments will be made to gold mining operators unless the existing terms of the Act are modified.

SIR:

I have the honour to submit the final report on the administration of the Emergency Gold Mining Assistance Act that expired on June 30, 1976.

Your obedient servant,

Deputy Minister

OTTAWA, August 1976

Final Report on the Operation of the Emergency Gold Mining Assistance Act

The Emergency Gold Mining Assistance Act (EGMA Act) came into force by proclamation on June 15, 1948. The purpose of the Act was to assist Canadian gold mine operators in meeting the greatly increased costs of production of gold for which, unlike all other primary mine products, there had been no compensating increase in the price. It was designed primarily to assist the high-cost or marginal mines to continue in operation over a difficult period and also to enable such mines to continue to maintain their dependent communities.

The EGMA Act was reviewed and amended many times since 1948 and was extended to June 30, 1976 by Bill C-130 that received Royal Assent on April 18, 1973. The extended Act provided a floor price guarantee of about $52.50 per ounce of gold for those mines eligible for maximum assistance provided that they sold their gold to the Royal Canadian Mint in Ottawa. The Mint, however, could only purchase gold at the International Monetary Fund (IMF) price for gold which was set at $35 (U.S.) a fine troy ounce in January 1934, raised to $38 on May 8, 1972 and to $42.2222 on October 18, 1973.

The price for gold in open gold markets commenced to rise in 1971 (see below) and it became more advantageous for gold mine operators to sell their product on the open market and to forego EGMA cost assistance. As a result, none of the gold mine operators applied for cost assistance under the terms of the EGMA Act since the calendar year 1971. The last payments made to gold mine operators were made in October 1973 and these were holdback payments applying to the calendar year 1971.

The EGMA Act was no longer of any assistance to the gold mine operators and was allowed to lapse on June 30, 1976. Payments made under the Act totalled $303,101,402 on a production of 61,813,545 fine troy ounces of gold produced and sold in accordance with the provisions of the Act. Details of payments made to individual gold mine operators can be found in the statistical tables attached to this report.

Assessment of the EGMA Act

Most gold mine operators and observers of the industry would agree that the EGMA Act was a good legislation and did assist gold mines to keep operating and helped to maintain gold mining communities. A study of the tables of EGMA payments made between 1948 and 1971 show that many lode gold mines, some still operating, received cost assistance during all or most of the 24 years that the Act was in active use. It is estimated that many Canadian gold mines had their working lives extended by up to 10 years by means of EGMA cost payments. It can be stated that the Act achieved its original purpose of extending the operating life of the gold mines and thereby allowed the gold mining communities to adjust gradually to diminishing economic support.

Some of the gold mining communities with their lives extended by means of the EGMA Act have been able to expand their economic base with the establishment of base metal mining activities and industrial operations or have become the services and social centre for relatively large areas of Canada's north country.

Table 3, in this report, shows the distribution of assistance payments related to the average costs of production for both lode gold and placer operations receiving cost assistance between 1948 to 1971. Table 4 was derived from an analysis of this table and shows the total lode gold mines that would have been working at a loss without EGMA cost assistance. These mines would have had to close down in a relatively short period of time without EGMA payments. These mines represented more than 50 per cent of all the lode gold mines receiving assistance under the Act and produced nearly 26 million ounces of gold at a cost to EGMA of $198 million. The EGMA gold was sold to the Royal Canadian Mint (a requirement of the EGMA Act) at the International Monetary Fund (IMF) fixed price of $35 (U.S.) a fine troy ounce. The purchase price varied between $33.55 and $38.05 an ounce in Canadian funds depending upon the fluctuating exchange rate between the Canadian and United States dollar. The gold purchased by the Mint became part of the gold reserves of the Bank of Canada and was used for international trade transactions or was added to Canada's official gold reserves.

Commencing in March 1968, in accordance with an international agreement with the central banks of seven major nations, gold purchased by the Mint was not added to Canada's official reserves but was sold on the open market through the Bank of Canada. The open market gold price exceeded the Mint price between 1968-71 and the cost of operating the EGMA Act was in effect reduced by an estimated $26 million through profits realized by the Department of Finance while selling EGMA gold on the open (free) gold market. A further profit was realized when the IMF raised the official gold price first to $38 and then $42.2222 (U.S.) a fine troy ounce and in November 1973 Canada's official gold reserves of 21.95 million ounces, were revalued to $926.9 million U.S. dollars. Much of Canada's gold reserves have come from EGMA gold purchased through the Mint at $35 (U.S.) an ounce. The EGMA plan cost the Canadian government $303 million between 1948 and 1971 but if Canada's gold reserves were sold on the open market, at present prices, a large profit would be realized and it is apparent that the EGMA cost was a good investment for the Canadian tax payer.

Administration of the EGMA Act, 1975-76

The EGMA Act, in recent years, has been administered by the Mineral Development Sector under the direction of the Assistant Deputy Minister (Mineral Development), Department of Energy, Mines and Resources. Some of the lode gold mines, formerly receiving cost assistance under the Act, were visited during 1975-76 by a mineral economist from the Minerals and Metals Division of the Sector and these mines supplied statistical information concerning their mining operations. A few mine operators continued to send to EMR lists of employee hirings and separations made through Canada Manpower Centres and these lists were forwarded to the Department of Manpower and Immigration for its information.

The open market gold price dropped from a high of $140.35 in the London gold market in January 1976 to below $110 an ounce in July 1976 and the gold mine operators, through The Mining Association of Canada, approached the federal government seeking some form of assistance to once again keep the gold mines operating. The EGMA Act, in its present form, could no longer assist the gold mines and some other type of legislation will be necessary if the gold mines are to be helped. EMR and other interested federal departments were considering the problems facing the gold mines in July 1976 and recommendations probably will be made to the federal Cabinet concerning these problems.

Summary of Requirements under the EGMA Act

For purposes of reference, a summary of information concerning the requirements for applying for cost assistance under the EGMA Act and some administration details, as listed in recent EGMA annual reports, are being repeated in the present report, as follows:

Conditions Governing Eligibility for Assistance Under the EGMA Act

A mine, to be classified as a gold mine for purposes of the Act and Regulations, must fulfill the following conditions:

1. The value of gold produced must be 70 per cent or more of the total value of the output of the mine.
2. The mine must produce at least 50 troy ounces of fine gold in a designated year.
3. Ore reserves of commercial significance must be developed and there must be a reasonable possibility of attaining production of gold on a commercial basis within a reasonable time.

The operator of a mine must also conform to the following requirements to be eligible for assistance payments:

1. Application in prescribed form for assistance payments for a designated quarter or year must be received by the Department of Energy, Mines and Resources within six months after the end of the designated period. Advance payments may be made for a calendar year or for quarterly periods beginning with the first day of the months of January, April, July or October, Schedules I to V are to be used in making application for assistance.
2. The average cost of production per ounce of gold, computed on all ounces of gold produced from the mine during the designated period, must exceed $26.50.
3. Assistance payments are made only for those ounces of gold produced from the mine during the designated period which are:
 - a) sold in the form of bullion to the Royal Canadian Mint by the operator; or
 - b) sold in the form of ore or concentrate to a domestic smelter, provided the smelter operator certifies that a number of ounces equivalent to those paid for by the smelter have been sold to the Royal Canadian Mint as soon as is practicable after the shipment of the ore or concentrate and the separation of the gold therefrom; or
 - c) exported and sold in the form of ore concentrate to a foreign smelter.
4. The operator of a mine applying for assistance for the first time must submit a declaration of ownership of the mine on Schedule III.
5. An amendment to the Act in 1963 contained a restriction limiting eligibility for assistance in the case of lode gold mines commencing production after June 30, 1965 to those providing direct economic support to an established mining community. A gold mine is deemed to provide such support if more than 50 per cent of the persons employed at the mine reside in the established mining communities listed in a schedule to the Act.

Requirements Under Bill C-4

6. Mines Not Eligible for Cost Assistance

The Act does not apply in respect of gold produced from a mine that is not a placer mine and that, during the month immediately preceding the 7th day of August, 1970, did not produce, in reasonable commercial quantities, gold or ore containing gold.

7. Agreement Concerning Hiring Practices

(Schedule IV, Form MREA 4 (71), Sheet No. 1)

As a condition of receiving any payment under the Act after December 31, 1970, an operator of a gold mine that is not a placer mine, must agree:

- a) not to hire any persons to work at the mine unless they are referred to him by designated officers of the Department of Manpower and Immigration; and
- b) to submit with each application, on Sheet No. 2 of Form MREA 4 (71) a list of employees hired and separated during the period to which the application applies and stating the total number of employees at the mine at the beginning and end of that period.

8. Agreement Concerning Closure of a Gold Mine

(Schedule V, Form MREA 5 (71))

As a condition of receiving any payment of assistance under the Act after December 31, 1970 an operator of a gold mine must agree:

- a) to send written notice by registered mail to the Deputy Minister, Department of Energy, Mines and Resources, Ottawa, at least four months before the mine ceases to produce, in reasonable commercial quantities, gold or ore containing gold (in those cases where the cessation of operations occurs on or subsequent to July 1, 1971); and
- b) to retain, immediately after sending the notice referred to in paragraph a), such services of the Department of Manpower and Immigration as the Minister of Manpower and Immigration may require for the purpose of finding new employment for these persons who are employed at the mine when the notice is sent.

Method of Calculating Cost Assistance

The amount of assistance payable to an operator is determined by a formula based on the average cost of production per ounce of gold and the number of ounces produced. Under the current formula the assistance payable to the operator of a gold mine is computed by adding 25 per cent to the product of two factors, the "rate of assistance" and the number of "assistance ounces". The number of assistance ounces is two thirds of the total ounces produced and sold to the Royal Canadian Mint by a mine in a calendar year. The rate-of-assistance factor is two thirds of the amount by which the average cost of production exceeds $26.50. The rate-of-assistance factor is limited to a maximum of $12.33 which is reached when the average cost of production rises to $45 per ounce of gold produced.

When calculated on the basis of all eligible ounces produced, the maximum assistance payable amounts to $10.27 per ounce.

The average cost of production is determined by dividing the total allowable costs by the total number of ounces produced in the form of bullion from the mine in a calendar year. Only those ounces of gold which have been sold to the Royal Canadian Mint are eligible for inclusion, in the assistance-ounces factor.

The cost of production of gold from a mine includes mining, milling, smelting, refining, transportation and administration costs. Allowances are made for depreciation, preproduction costs and expenditures on exploration and development on the mine property in accordance with the Regulations.

Canadian Gold Production and Assistance Payments Made Under the Terms of the Emergency Gold Mining Assistance Act

The distribution of assistance payments as related to the average costs of production for lode gold and placer mines, between the calendar years 1948-71, is shown in Table 3.

Table 4 shows the number of Canadian lode gold mines that would have operated at a loss between the years 1948-71 without cost assistance through the EGMA Act.

Payments made to individual gold mining operators, both lode gold and placer, under the terms of the EGMA Act between 1948-71 are detailed in pages 26 to 101.

It should be noted that the values shown in Table 3 and payments made to individual operators are identical to those shown in the EGMA annual reports for the fiscal years ended March 31, 1974 and March 31, 1975. The gold mining operators received no further payments under the EGMA Act following the final holdback payments that pertained to the calendar year 1971 that were made in October 1973.

Figure 1 gives a comparison of the yearly average buying price for gold at the Royal Canadian Mint in Ottawa and the London Gold Market in Canadian funds, between 1948-75.
